Kris,

Please see the attached November statement. I accept full responsibility on the delay and would like to address a few items from your email.

Statement Delay

We termed with Bolder Services on 11/28 and expected them to provide your last (Nov) statement to you – or in my expectation, send it to us so we can forward to you. In the spirit of transparency, we termed our relationship with Bolder due to the account onboarding experience that we (and you) received upon subscribing to our Fund. Contractually, Bolder was obligated to continue admin services for 90 days from notice which would not cause any disruption in your portal access – this did not occur.

Fund Admin

Although we termed with Bolder and are in process with Apex Group, our Fund is not without Admin services. We are platformed with RBC Capital Markets which provides the oversight that 3rd party administrators provide – which is who provided your November monthly statement. Unfortunately, they do not provide a portal which is why we need Apex to provide for that for you.

Re: timelines for Apex Group – we are contracted with them but will not have user portal access until they complete our onboarding which will not occur until minimum next month or February 1st at the latest. I will send you the monthly RBC statements until your portal access is restored. Again, I'd like to reiterate that our Fund is not without Admin services and your subscription is very secure and held at Royal Bank of Canada.

Reign

I would have to lean on @Gary Mills to provide updates regarding Reign Financial.

Thanks,

Fabian Stone

Fabian

As of this email we have not received anything you have indicated below. No account statements and no access to another third party administrator. I have asked several times when this will take place and your responses have led to false promises. The fact that we sent $20,000,000 dollars to you and now is not administered or accounted for via a third party is very concerning. We were told, assured and led to believe by Gary Mills that we would have a third party administrator at all times to assure that the money is safe and secure.

I'm trying to be reasonable here but I don't have much patience left especially when nothing that has been promised of how this entire process would develop has come true from either Rein or yourselves.

The last thing I want to do is instruct my entire 45 person digital marketing company to take to the internet and convey what our experience has been with Berone Capital and the principles behind it. I would never want another perspective client to go through the same ordeal we have endured throughout this process. I have the resources, energy, staff and fortitude to convey our experience for years to come.

Gentlemen. In business I do what I say and say what I do and I expect the same from the party I'm transacting with to which I hold accountable without constant excuses.

Please let me know asap if you can provide what you have previously indicated you would provide (New third party administrator and account statements) by the end of this week.

Respectful

Kris D. Roglieri

We wanted to provide you with a status update. We are still finalizing our new admin access and them onboarding us as a new Fund client. Since this process is taking longer than initially anticipated, we (Berone Capital) will keep you updated by sending out account statements until the portal access is activated. We should have the first to you by EOD Monday.

Sorry for any inconvenience this may have caused but hope this will suffice in the interim.

I have the CIS/KYC documents that you previously sent to ReignFi. However, our Fund Admin requested the below :

He can send a copy of his utility bill or similar document. If a utility bill is not available, he can also send a copy of his driver's license as long as it lists his current residential address. In addition, we also require a copy of the Operating Agreement for Prime Capital Ventures LLC. Once these documents are received, we will be able to finalize his onboarding.

Please reply back and I will forward along to them to expedite processing.

RBC's lottery procedures for callable securities may be found on our website at <https://www.rbcclearingandcustody.com/en-us/legal/> under "Partial Redemption of Callable Securities". A printed copy of these procedures may be requested from your Financial Advisor.

To report a lost or stolen VISA Platinum® card, call 800-933-9946 or 877-486-3696. Questions regarding check activity, money funds balances and VISA Platinum® card activity should be directed to Client Account Services at 800-933-9946.

A financial statement of this organization is available for your personal inspection at its offices, or a copy of it will be mailed upon your written request.

If you have an option account, each of the transaction confirmations that we sent you itemizes the commissions that you have paid. Upon request, we will also furnish to you a statement of the total option commissions paid by you for this calendar year.

For a schedule of fees charged by RBC, you may visit Advisor Connect through your advisor's website or directly at www.rbcadvisorconnect.com where a list of fees is included in the section titled "other". Please contact your advisor with additional questions about the list of fees, or for help accessing Advisor Connect.

ABOUT YOUR STATEMENT – Statements are mailed monthly to clients who have transactions during the month that affect money balances and/or security positions. Statements are mailed quarterly to all other clients provided that their account contains a money or security balance. Please review these statements carefully, and keep them for your records. If you note any discrepancies in your money balance, security positions, tax lots chosen for disposition, or unauthorized activity in your account, please report this to us immediately in writing at RBC Clearing & Custody, Attn: Client Service Team, 250 Nicollet Mall, Suite 1700, Minneapolis, MN 55401-1931 or at 612-371-7830. In addition, you should reconfirm any oral communications with us in writing to further protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Your statement is intended to provide only a summary of activity in your account(s) for the statement period. The information provided on the statement includes, among other things, a snapshot of the value of your account(s), a summary of the income you received for the statement and year-to-date periods, contributions to traditional, Roth or other Individual Retirement Account(s), and transactions in mutual funds shares. The presentation of the value of your account(s) value, as well as changes in value, includes all deposits, withdrawals, and other changes in market value. It may also reflect a reduction in value as the result of the return of principal on certain fixed income securities. However, changes in the value of unpriced securities, special products, or accrued interest are not reflected.

If you have questions about your individual tax situation, please consult your tax advisor.

The prices for most securities and certain securities transactions reported on this statement are obtained from independent quotation services whose appraisal(s) are based on closing prices, bid-ask quotations or other factors; however, in some cases, RBC calculates prices for certain securities using information from independent and internal sources. If you hold municipal revenue bonds, please be aware that the price you may receive on their sale may vary significantly from the price shown on your statement. Moreover, certain securities may have unique valuation requirements. Certain securities prices may not be current as of the statement date, and certain adjustments to your holdings may not yet have been included. If you purchase and/or hold securities traded in a market outside of the United States, and/or denominated in a currency other than United States dollars, the price of those securities may be converted into United States dollars for inclusion on your statement. The risks of adverse changes in the value of non-United States currencies relative to the United States dollar are borne by you; RBC does not hedge or otherwise mitigate such risks. While we obtain pricing and currency conversion information from sources that we believe are reliable, RBC cannot guarantee the accuracy of the prices and currency conversion information that appear on your statement. You should always request a current valuation of your securities prior to making an investment decision or placing an order to buy or sell securities. Note that securities that are not actively traded have not been priced and, therefore, are excluded from the total shown in your summary.

RBC's Dividend Reinvestment Program (DRIP) is available to holders of eligible securities. For more information on the program, please refer to the terms and conditions of your agreement with us in the Client Account Agreement and the "Dividend Reinvestment Program Disclosure" which can be found at <https://www.rbcclearingandcustody.com/en-us/legal/>. If you have additional questions, please contact your Financial Advisor.

Non-priced Securities – Securities that are not actively traded and for which no independent quotation-service pricing is readily available are excluded from the (i) Market Price, (ii) Market Value and (iii) Account Summary Total sections of your statement. In these instances, the Market Value and Total Account Summary sections of the statement will reflect a $0.00 value for these securities until such time that they begin active trading and/or have a readily available independent quotation-service price. Accrued interest for non-priced (N/P) securities will be reflected on your statement where applicable. Examples of N/P securities may include, but are not limited to, auction rate securities, auction rate preferred securities and certain structured products and over-the-counter equity securities.

If you have elected to receive interest on free credit balances maintained in your account, please be advised that under federal securities laws and the rules of FINRA, we are permitted to pay such interest only on balances arising as an incidence of securities trading activities. We may use a free credit balance in our account in the course of our business, subject to limitations of 17CFR Section 240.15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. You may demand and receive from us during normal business hours the delivery of any free credit balances or fully-paid securities in your account, and/or any securities purchased in your loan account upon full payment of any indebtedness to us. Any balance in the RBC Insured Deposits or shares in a money market fund in your account may be liquidated on your order and the proceeds returned to your account or remitted to you upon the full payment of any indebtedness to us.

If this is an RBC Express Credit™ (margin) account and we maintain a special memorandum account for you, this is a combined statement of both your general account and the special memorandum account maintained for you under Regulation T of the Federal Reserve system. The permanent record of the special memorandum account as required by Regulation T is available for your inspection at your request. RBC reserves the right to limit RBC Express Credit (margin) purchases and short sales and to alter its margin requirements and due dates for house or other margin calls in accordance with the firm's guidelines, market conditions and regulatory requirements.

The prices reported on your RBC statement for securities issued through or by a Direct Participation Program, Real Estate Investment Trust, or private securities, including hedge funds are estimates. RBC does not calculate the prices of these securities, and has not confirmed these prices or verified that they are determined correctly. Instead, RBC relies on independent quotation services or the management, trustee or general partner of the issuer of the securities to provide such prices. The prices may be based on independent appraisals, the book value of the entity's assets, the prices paid or offered for the securities, or another method or basis (or a combination of any of these). These securities are illiquid, and do not trade in a public market. Consequently, the estimated value of the securities (which is shown on your statement) may not equal the amount(s) that you receive if you attempt to sell your investment. In some cases, accurate valuation information relating to these securities may not be available. For current or estimated price information on the estimated value of the securities, the source of the actual or estimated value of the securities, or the method by which the value was determined or estimated, please call 866-295-8555.

FINRA BrokerCheck Hotline – FINRA has made available to investors a pamphlet describing FINRA BrokerCheck for your information. To obtain a copy of the brochure, please contact FINRA at 800-289-9999 or visit their website at www.finra.org.

Same Day Cash Sweep Redemptions – If your transaction has the description "Same Day", the transaction you requested required same day payment—RBC retained the last day's dividend to offset the cost of advancing a same day payment on your behalf. For more information see the "Cash Sweep Program Overview" on our public website at <https://www.rbcclearingandcustody.com/en-us/legal/>, as well as "Program Banks" under RBC Insured Deposits.

ACCOUNT STATEMENT

November 1, 2022 - November 30, 2022

Conditions

- RBC Capital Markets, LLC (RBC) Member NYSE/FINRA/SIPC, is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Royal Bank of Canada.
- This transaction is subject to the rules, regulations, practices and customs of the exchange and its clearinghouse, if any, where the transaction was executed, or of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority if not executed on an exchange. This transaction may have incurred other fees which may include handling fees or transaction fees paid to an exchange. A complete breakdown of fees associated with this transaction will be provided upon your written request.
- We will also provide upon written request the date and time when this transaction took place and the name of the other party to the transaction.
- Any order for your account(s) may be aggregated with orders for the account(s) of other clients and executed as one order. As a result, you may receive a price or average price that is different than the price or average price that you would have received had your order not been aggregated. In addition, aggregation of your order with orders of other clients may result in your order being only partially completed.
- RBC has established electronic connectivity with certain exchanges, broker-dealers and/or other market centers (collectively, "market centers") for the purpose of routing orders in equity securities and options for executions. These connections have been entered into based upon the execution quality provided by these market centers, evaluated on the basis of price improvement performance, liquidity enhancement, and speed of execution. For options orders, RBC receives payment in the form of rebates and credits against fees in return for routing client orders. Any remuneration that RBC receives for directing orders to any market center will not accrue to your account. RBC contracts with a third-party vendor, S3 Matching Technologies, LP, to receive execution metrics to meet its best execution requirement under FINRA rules. RBC has arranged for its market centers to remit payment for a portion of this service based on previous years' volumes routed to each destination. RBC may execute the order itself or with other market centers. The source and nature of the compensation received by RBC in connection with the transaction described on this confirmation will be provided upon your written request. For information with respect to RBC C&C's handling of customer orders see "SEC Order Handling Disclosures" at www.rbccustodyandclearing.com/legal/. Should you desire a written copy of this information, contact your financial advisor.
- If this transaction involves when-issued securities, payment therefor and delivery thereof shall be made in accordance with the terms of a subsequent confirmation to be delivered on the date the securities are issued.
- Complete information about call features will be provided upon request. In the case of debt securities, call features may exist which could affect yield. The actual yield of an asset-backed security (securities which represent an interest in or are secured by a pool of receivables or other financial assets that are subject to continuous payment) may vary according to the rate at which the underlying assets are prepaid. Additional information concerning the factors that affect yield will be provided upon written request.
- If this is an averaged price transaction, details regarding the actual prices are available upon request.
- Payment for securities purchased and delivery of securities sold are due promptly on the settlement date. Until payment is made by you, securities purchases by you or held by us for your account are or may be hypothecated and commingled with securities carried for other clients. If payment or delivery is not made by the settlement date, we reserve the right without further notice to charge interest on the amount due shown on the face hereof, at our current rate on client general accounts, or to sell securities purchased and hold you liable for any loss thereby incurred, or to cancel this transaction.
- This confirmation shall be deemed to be correct unless written notice of correction is immediately delivered to us.
- Unless you indicate non-consent in writing, this agreement shall inure to and be binding upon RBC's successors and assigns, and your administrators, legal representatives and assigns.
- You may be eligible for breakpoint discounts based on the size of your purchase, current holdings, or future purchases. The sales charge you paid may differ slightly from the prospectus-disclosed rate due to rounding calculations. Please refer to the Prospectus or Statement of Additional Information, or contact your Financial Advisor for further information.
- Auction Rate Securities: See "Auction Rate Procedures" on our public website at rbccwm.com/disclosures for a written description of our material auction practices and procedures. Please contact your Financial Advisor to request that a copy be mailed to you.
- Variable Rate Demand Bonds/Notes/Obligations: See "Variable Rate Demand Notice" on our public website at rbccwm.com/disclosures for a notice regarding the risk considerations relating to the Remarketing Agent's role and duties. Please contact your Financial Advisor to request that a copy be mailed to you.
- This transaction may be subject to the "U.S. Treasury Securities Fails Charge Trading Practice" and the "Agency Debt and Agency Mortgage-Backed Securities Fails Charge Trading Practice," published by the Treasury Market Practices Group and the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association and available at www.sifma.org/resources/general/fails-charge-trading-practices/
- Investments and transactions that are ineligible for SIPC protection are commodity futures contracts and currency, as well as investment contracts (such as limited partnerships), fixed annuity contracts that are not registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act of 1933 and foreign currency transactions.
- For a buy, any mark-up is calculated as the price you paid for the security in this transaction minus the prevailing market price of the security at the time you bought it. For a sell, any mark-down is calculated as the prevailing market price of the security at the time you sold it minus the amount you received in this transaction.
